Emergency Department Physicians: Staying focused on what matters the most

As an ED physician, you need to be alert, decisive, and focused on patient needs. Patient care always comes first; while documenting and coding your work is seldom your top priority, and yet, as the saying goes, 'If it wasn't documented it wasn't done.' BDA can help. With our deep experience working one-on-one with physicians, we can help you improve your documentation and coding accuracy while minimizing distraction. Because you don't have time to waste.

What We Do

BDA has an exceptional track record of educating ED physicians and the nursing staff to accurately reflect the documentation of an encounter and then code the encounter appropriately.

Our experienced coding and financial professionals have worked side-by-side with thousands of healthcare experts like you to improve documentation and coding, which in turn increases revenue capture, grows compliance, and helps you focus on what matters most: practicing good medicine.

- » We customize our tools and solutions to meet your needs.
- » We simplify so you can adopt effective, consistent, and compliant processes.
- » We educate by listening and explaining until you are comfortable in your understanding.
- » We streamline processes by introducing best practices that will improve your revenue capture and grow compliance.

Success Snapshot: How BDA's one-on-one training works

A particular BDA strength is our unique way of helping physicians participate more effectively in the medical coding process. Our training methods reflect a keen understanding of what physicians' priorities are and how they prefer to receive information.

As ED physicians are required to take increasingly active roles in value-based documentation, we can help make the learning process more productive. Our efficient one-on-one training and education result in better staff alignment around documentation, coding, and billing processes. And that results in better revenue capture.
